UGLY SCANDAL ABOUT A WOMAN.

It Involves the Office of the Engraving Clerk.

ATTEMPTED INVESTIGATION.

Charges Against Clerk Eads at Jefferson City Made the Subject of a Resolution.

Special to The Post-Dispatch. JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., March 1.—A scandal connected with a woman and involving the engraving clerk's office was made the subject of a resolution introduced in the House this morning by Mr. Buckner of Pike. The resolution reads:

Whereas, There have been various clerks elected by this House to preside over the conduct of the business represented by the House to their respective departments; and,

Whereas, Any scandal in any of these departments reflects upon the House; and,

Whereas, These appeared in the Sedalia Evening Democrat, a newspaper of general circulation, on the 18th inst., a scurrilous article, as follows:

(Title): It is Effe, Not Pansy.

"Pansy Howe, a former inmate of Lou McLean's immoral resort, who on leaving here went to Jefferson City, where she was known as 'Berlie Wells,' is now one of the clerks in the Republican House of Representatives and is drawing pay under the name of 'Effe Johnson,'" and,

Whereas, In consequence of said scandal, it is the opinion of this House that some of the employees in said office who were discharged by the chief of the engraving force, notwithstanding the fact that they had faithfully performed the duties of their positions, should be reinstated.

Resolved, That a committee of three members of this House be appointed by the Speaker to inquire into the above and report to this House as to the truth or falsity of said article; and also as to the proficiency of the department of engraving clerks in the conduct of said office, the said committee shall have power to summon and examine witnesses under oath and compel the attendance of the same.

Resolved, That the Hon. John Johnson, alias Pansy Howe, was until last Tuesday a member of the Engraving Clerk's force.

Guy and Ellison Keel Attack a Posse of Officers.

ARDMORE, I. T., March 1.—Guy and Ellison Keel, brothers of Ivison Keel, who died last week from a bullet wound received in a fight with United States marshals some two months ago, came here late last night to avenge their brother's death. They opened fire on a posse of officers in the street, killing the Guy and his brother is lurking around the town. Officers are patrolling the streets. The boy did not left town a half hour, and there may be more trouble.

FAME FOR CASH.

Judge David Murphy's Experience More Than Satisfies Him.

It costs money to have one's face put in a nicely bound book along with the celebrities of a big city. When Judge David Murphy, at present of the Court of Criminal Corrections, was approached by a collector of the Old and New St. Louis Publication Co., he thought he was willing to do it. After the book was published, however, the Judge decided that this evidence of fame was not worth as much as he thought, and so he had to refuse to pay him $100. The book people wanted $300, and now they have gone to law about it. The case will come up before Justice Spaulding on Monday. Perhaps the appearance of Judge Murphy's physiognomy in the daily papers since his elevation to the bench has satisfied his desire for prominence.

THE WEATHER.

Fair To-Night and Saturday—Much Colder, This Evening.

Weather forecast for St. Louis and vicinity: Fair Friday night and Saturday; much colder Friday night, with temperature below freezing; nearly stationary temperature Saturday.

Illinoian: Light local snow to-day; fair, with cold wave to-night; Saturday fair; cold.

For tomorrow: Fair, with cold wave to-night; Saturday fair, continued cold, except in southeast portion.

Arkansas: Fair, much colder; northerly winds.

One of the attachés of the House who met the woman when she first came to St. Louis, for a situation states that several leases interest her in her, and in fact brought about her appointment to the engraving force, and supported her in her efforts to make her independent to her position until they discovered, as they claim, that she had not reformed. Engraving Clerk Eads admits the girl's innocence, but says she is a little old and conducted herself in a becoming manner while in the room occupied by the engraving force, and was made by the young woman's former benefactor to effect that he had been kindly friendly with her.

Misses Jones of Hickory and Jones of Peoria, who are brothers, say they were the original indorsees of Berlie Wells, which is a girl from Indianapolis, whom they also known in Polk County, Iowa, from childhood. They had not seen her for years until they met her here at the beginning of the year, and know her well. She is now in Sedalia. However, they found it out, they say, before she was appointed, and then went to Eads and asked him not to appoint her upon their representations. Eads promised them they would do so, but he had appointed her on his own responsibility.

Another charge made against Eads was that he showed favoritism to a young clerk named Adams, hailing from his own town, and that he had given him a raise, while he loaded the four clerks named with long bills. Mr. Eads admitted that he had done this, but declared that he had so acted because the girl in question was a fine young man, and he desired to have a liberal sprinkling of handsomely engrossed bills in the lot, to be sent each day to the House.

Still another charge against Eads is pending, and will undoubtedly take the form of a resolution. It is that he has been holding up the work upon the appropriation bills, including the subcommittee for the Walton telephone reduction bill, which was on the calendar for engrossment in the House yesterday morning, but which could not be engrossed because the bill had not arrived. Inquiry of Clerk Eads elicited the excuse that the reduction of his force by the absence of the four clerks from duty for two days had thrown the work behind.

Up to the time of this resolution this morning, Mr. Buckner, now in his adopted home of St. Louis, moved to refer it to the Committee on Clerical Force. The first roll call showed 56 ayes to 50 nays. A division was then made, and the corrected roll was announced 55 ayes, 50 nays.

BILL CHANDLER'S GALL.
When vituperating his fellow Senators it is presumed that Mr. "Bill" Chandler keeps a safe arm's length away from Senator Blackburn's twitching fingers. Without any artificial lengthening his ears are sufficiently elongated to classify him in the animal kingdom.

His gall, however, deserves even more stinging rebuke than he received last night from Senators Hill and Martin. He should be made to realize that, characterless as the United States Senate is, his presence there is an affront to decency. He typifies the worst abuses of American politics, and the guilt that yawns between Sumner and Chandler startlingly exemplifies the decline of the Party of Great Moral Ideas.

His steal of Florida's vote from Tilden in 1876 was the most brazen and shameless of the frauds through which Hayes was seated in a usurper's chair.

His administration of the Navy Department during an era of good stealing made even Robeson respectable by comparison.

His contest with Gallinger for the control of New Hampshire has been marked by every crime that can be perpetrated against an honest ballot, including a false roll of membership concocted by a clerk and a Legislature organized by constables.

His relations with the railroad interests of his State account for many things that a five thousand dollar salary fails to explain.

In the Senate he is a scolding Thersites whose venom, within the safe precincts of "Senatorial courtesy," is poured out upon Democrats not to accomplish any public purpose but simply to gratify malignants at home.

He is one of the chronic nuisances of American politics and should be abated.

HOMES IN MISSOURI.

When the Republican party came into control of the Missouri House of Representatives everybody had a right to expect that one of the very first acts of that body would be the passage of a bill to encourage immigration to this State. The Republicans have talked and written of little else for more than twenty years. The "advancing tread of invincible millions" has been the one motto emblazoned on their political shield.

Yet the legislative session is approaching its end without a single word from the Republican members upon this subject.

Gov. Stone in his biennial message strongly recommended either the establishment of a Board of Immigration or the creation of the office of Immigration Commissioner, with an appropriation of about $10,000. But the only movement thus far made by the Legislature in that direction is the offering of a bill by Senator Walker, a Democrat, providing for a commission of fifteen persons, to be appointed by the Governor and charged with the duty of advertising the State.

The probabilities are that one intelligent, active man could accomplish more than fifteen, but the Walker bill should at least have the earnest attention of the Legislature, to the end that something may finally be done in the way of encouraging immigration to Missouri.

HOW IT WAS WORKED.

The press defenders of the recent bond bunc game are doing a public service in emphasising the pledges made by the bond syndicate to protect the Government's gold reserve and so to regulate the rate of exchange that there shall be no exports of gold for some time.

The giving of these pledges was a confession that the conditions which forced the Government to issue bonds to maintain its reserve and avert a panic were artificially created. Their fulfillment will be positive proof of a conspiracy on the part of the international gold combine to "pinch" the Government for its own benefit.

The Post-Dispatch recently showed by a table giving the withdrawals of gold from the Treasury and exports of gold for each year since 1879 that it was not the demands of exporters, but the carefully concocted schemes of New York bankers that stripped the Treasury of gold. Although the exports decreased, the withdrawals increased after 1883, and within the first seven months of the current fiscal year the withdrawals exceeded the exports by over $50,000,000.

The complete stopping of gold exports immediately after the gold combine has made $16,000,000 on a bond deal is conclusive proof that the recent bond issue at an exorbitant rate of interest was the profitable culmination of a plot to hold up the Government and force it into formal acceptance of gold monometalism.

Advertisers who wish to reach the largest number of possible buyers in St. Louis and its trade territory use the Post-Dispatch, daily and Sunday. Its average circulation in the city of St. Louis is more than that of the Globe-Democrat and Republican combined, and it is the recognized guide of the retail shoppers. The Sunday Post-Dispatch is guaranteed to reach a larger number of readers and to yield a bigger return to advertisers than any other paper in the Mississippi Valley. Its colored cover next Sunday will be a beauty.

A DANGEROUS PRECEDENT.

In the controversy between Gov. Stone and Gov. Altgeld concerning the Goulding extradition case the position of the Missouri Executive is absolutely correct. Gov. Stone's argument in support of his position from the standpoints of law, equity and public policy is clear, convincing, unassailable.

It is true, as Gov. Altgeld affirms, a Governor may exercise discretion in the granting or withholding of extradition, but this discretion has been clearly defined by the courts. Its limitations are set forth with great clearness by Gov. Stone. Its exercise is to be determined by law and never by mere whim or prejudice. A Governor who sets aside the forms of law and the authority of courts in response to personal appeals and impressions based upon ex parte testimony and uncorroborated information exercises his discretion in a manner contrary to public policy.

If the example of Gov. Altgeld in this case were generally followed it would substitute whim and caprice for the orderly operation of law. It would make each State a Botany Bay for the fugitive criminals from other States. The enforcement of law would become a mockery. The Governor of Illinois has made a most dangerous precedent.

MUST LEARN ENGLISH.

In view of the recent rulings by Judges Valland and Edmunds against the naturalization of persons who cannot understand and speak the English language, it is interesting to learn that of the 288,000 immigrants who landed in this country during the year 1894, 14 per cent were unable to read and 19 per cent unable to write their own language.

More than 45 per cent of the total immigration was from Austria-Hungary, Italy, Poland and Russia, and presumably all of this percentage absolutely ignorant of the English language. When to this is added the very large immigration from France, Germany and Scandinavia of persons who cannot read or write their own language, it will be seen that the determination of St. Louis judges that intending citizens shall at least know the language of this country is supported by suggestive facts.

It is an important step towards the education of illiterate foreigners. It will develop a closer personal interest in the country of their adoption by those desirous of sharing in its privileges, and will go far to destroy the "Little Italies" and "Little Germanys" of our great cities.

THE SCHOOL AGE FOR CHILDREN.

A concurrent resolution is pending in both houses of the Missouri Legislature providing for the submission of a constitutional amendment to the voters of the State which, if adopted, will reduce the limit of the school age for children from 6 years (as it is now) to 5 years. In each house the resolution is indorsed by a favorable committee report, and in the opinion of the Post-Dispatch it should pass without serious opposition.

In the first place, this is peculiarly a question which the people of the State should have the opportunity of determining in the light of the larger educational experience of the present time. When the present Constitution was adopted fixing the age limit at 6 years the kindergarten, that benefaction for mothers and children, was practically unknown in Missouri. Yet the kindergarten methods, so well understood and easily and cheaply applied, make the formative years from 4 to 6 perhaps the most important educational period of the child's life. The State suffers an irreparable loss when these years, especially the year from 5 to 6, are permitted to go unimproved.

Beneficial as it would prove everywhere in the State, there is urgent need of the change in a great city like St. Louis. The reason why is admirably set forth by Hon. W. T. Harris, National Commissioner of Education. In a letter to one of the public spirited ladies who are urging this matter upon the Legislature, he writes:

It is very important for all cities, and for most villages, to provide for the education of children under the age of 6. Because this is an age of the growth of cities, and cities bring with them as a necessary evil the so-called "slum." The weaklings of society, namely, the moral weaklings from whom the criminal class is recruited, the weaklings in self-control which furnish the paupers and inmates, and the intellectual weaklings which furnish the classes of feeble-minded and insane—these three classes I say have a tendency to collect in the same quarter of the city and to form what is called a "slum." This slum has a way of propagating its own evil. The children who are so unfortunate as to be born in a slum are submitted to a powerful educational influence from the beginning of their lives; an educational influence that tends to make them criminals and paupers. If these children are to be saved for virtuous and industrious lives, they must be brought under healthful school influences as soon as they are able to walk and speak. The kindergarten is the best institution ever devised for the reform of the children of the slum. It is entirely civilizing in its influence, and it is so powerful that it easily captivates the parents and older relatives of the children, thus spreading out its humbugging rays through the whole community.

The only objection that has been urged against the change is that it would increase the cost of the educational system. This does not apply, however, to the submission of the amendment to the people. If by their votes the people of Missouri determine that in the public interest the benefits of free school education should be extended, they can be relied upon to provide the means without quibble and without grudging.

Boss Platt regards his enemies in his party as a lot of scoundrels who want the earth. Caesar himself has no ambition.

The act of the Oklahoma Legislature opening the Territory to prize fighters is an act to discourage immigration.

The Fifty-third Congress is bad enough, but there is no promise that its successor will be an improvement.

Boss Filley cannot divert the public mind from living issues by fighting dead heroes.

MEN OF MARK.

Mr. Casimir-Perier will shortly tell the story of his Presidency in a pamphlet, which he has already begun.

There are only two male relatives of Robespierre living at the present day—Maximilian de Robespierre, and his son, now 15 years old.

The German Emperor's mustache is cured every morning by a barber who makes this operation his specialty and receives a fee of five shillings for each visit.

Thomas Jefferson Lummis, who died at Lynn, Mass., a few days ago, witnessed from a rock at Nahant the sea fight between the Chesapeake and the Shannon, in the war of 1812.

The chain long worn by Count Von Moltke a Knight of the Black Eagle, the highest Prussian order, is to be given to Count Walders—a great honor, for him. The Count's wife before marriage was Miss Lee, of New York.

Representative Stone of Kentucky wears an enormous cream-colored ulster that is the envy of the House and makes him the cynosure of all eyes. It is apparently patterned after the familiar gray surcoat worn by Santa Claus on his annual Christmas rounds.

Major Schieren of Brooklyn believes the recent trolley strike ended his political prospects. "I have written a letter to my son in Mexico," he said recently, "telling him that one good result of the strike was that there would be no danger of his ever being asked to take a renomination."

WOMEN OF NOTE.

Miss Anna Shaw, D. D., says the best way to address an audience is to talk as if you were scolding your husband.

"The Story of Bessie Costrell" is the title of Mrs. Humphry Ward's new novel.

It is a tale of English village life.

Miss Ruth Burnett of Boston, after whom "Baby Ruth" Cleveland was named, was last week received into the Catholic convent of the Sacred Heart, at Albany, N. Y.

Mrs. Maubec, the granddaughter of the famous John Sevier, one of the leaders of the rear guard of the revolution, which won the battle of King's Mountain, is in New York penniless.

Miss Mary Gannon and Miss Alice Hands, young architects of New York, have designed a model tenement house, for which ground is to be broken this week in New York and Jersey City.

Mrs. Humphry Ward is a wonderful linguist, and is versed in Spanish, German, French and Italian literature to a marvelous degree. Her books are mostly written at a farm near Haslemere, Surrey.

JUDGE EDMUND'S RULING.

From the Kansas City Star.

Judge Edmunds of the St. Louis Criminal Court has done well in adopting the rule that all foreigners who wish to be naturalized in his court must be able to speak the English language intelligently. A person who wishes to become a citizen of the United States should take interest enough in the country to learn its language. If he does not it should be taken as evidence that he does not desire to become really and truly an American; that he only desires to receive the protection of the Government, but does not desire to assume the duties and responsibilities of a citizen.

An Able and Independent Newspaper.

From the Lebanon (Mo.) Rustic.

Col. Charles H. Jones, formerly editor of the St. Louis Republic, who made that paper an able and fearless exponent of Western Democracy, has assumed control of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch and promises to make that paper a representative journal of Western Democracy, of which the party stands in need. Success to Col. Jones and a thoroughly Western Democratic paper.

It is a great fool who buys good advice when so much of it may be had for nothing.

"Count" is a good title for one who may have to keep track of so many wedding parties.—Chicago Evening Post.

It is in the Air.

From the Omaha Herald.

It is in the air that Government supervision of common carriers—the kind of supervision that supervises—has come to stay, and that the people will no longer submit to the employment of legal technicalities by railway companies to evade the consequences of violating law. The people have grown much lately, and they are now bigger than the corporations, and their influence for the right and for justice is growing, too.

Part and Counterpart.

From the Academy.

The infant soul made up of images is like a hothouse flower, unknown.

But holding pictured in its "nurse sacre."

The sky above and the surrounding trees.

And the surface carpet of rising breezes.

These depths of sacre fringed with branching green.

A name that follows on a form that flows.

As intermingled with the flow of being.

So action and motion, so meaning;

Or outward things, and that poesy is

FOR BREACH OF PROMISE.

A Rich and Married Contractor Sued by a Pretty Seamstress.

NEW YORK, March 1.—Maggie Dunn, a Brooklyn seamstress, has sued Patrick J. Egan, a wealthy Brooklyn contractor, for heavy damages for breach of promise. Miss Dunn is a pretty blonde to whom Egan has been married since 1886. Maggie has Egan courted her and betrayed her, keeping her under the impression that he was a single man. Egan says he is innocent.

Congratulations.

From the Mt. Pleasant (Ia.) Evening Review.

Charles H. Jones, formerly editor of the St. Louis Republic, has assumed editorial control of the Post-Dispatch. Col. Jones is one of the most brainy editorial writers in the West and we congratulate not only the Post-Dispatch, but the people of Missouri who will read his writings.

ORGANIZED FIFTY YEARS.

Rock Hill Church Reaches the Half Century Mark.

The old Rock Hill Presbyterian Church, on the Manchester road, north of Webster Groves, will be fifty years old next Sunday. The occasion marks an epoch in the church history of the country, but it can not be observed in the usual manner on account of the illness of several of the leading members. Years ago, before and shortly after the war, Rev. Mr. C. C. Clegg, was the pastor. The church is prosperous, for it numbered among its members several wealthy and old-established families, to whom they have moved away or sold their property. The old Rock Hill Church is not as important as it was. Rev. Mr. Armstrong is the present pastor. The career of the church has been the history of the country. One was a pioneer and the suburbs of St. Louis were wildernesses. But the railroads have wrought changes.

St. Louis Central is another aged church, the Bonhommes Presbyterian Church on the Clayton road, north of Manchester. It was established in 1818.

Methodist Conference.

The annual Methodist Conference, which meets at West Plains, March 15, is not expected to make many changes in the St. Louis pastorate, because the pastor, Fred, transferred his charge. The only local pastor whose term of five years is up is Rev. Mr. Miller, in charge of the Niedringhaus Memorial Church, Seventh and Chestnut aves. He is to be succeeded by Rev. Mr. Armstrong, who will be moved to the First Church. The old Rock Hill Church is not as important as it was. Rev. Mr. Armstrong is the present pastor. The career of the church has been the history of the country. One was a pioneer and the suburbs of St. Louis were wildernesses. But the railroads have wrought changes.

EXCHANGE RIVER COMMITTEE.

They Indorse a Third Bridge Across the Mississippi.

The Mississippi River Committee of the Merchants' Exchange adopted a resolution Thursday, agreeing that a free bridge across the Mississippi would be advantageous to the commerce of the city and that the Exchange should aid any practical movement to reduce bridge tolls, but that there is nothing practical in the propositions made to the committee. The proposal of the committee was to remove the removal of the headquarters of the Mississippi River Commission from New York to St. Louis.

Hebrew Church Faculties.

The discussion that prevails in the congregation of the Sons of Zion, and so nearly culminates in a row Sunday night, was renewed Thursday when Jacob Sealeff of the Hebrew faction swat out warrants for the garners of the superstitious and for assaulting him at Sunday's meeting. This caused threats by the opposition, and a sergeant and three officers to the meeting were arrested. It was finally agreed to arbitrate, both parties selecting a committee of six to meet Saturday night.

For the Confederate Home.

The ex-Confederate Historical and Benevolent Society held an entertainment Thursday night at Howard Hall for the benefit of the Confederate Home for the sick. There was a large attendance, and a series of entertainments. This is the first of the series of entertainments for the support of the Home rather than allow it to be under the control of the city.

Marble Potters' Strike.

About twenty-five marble potters struck at the Pickett Marble and Granite Co. at Broadway and LaSalle street, against the workmen's system, which was recently introduced. They were received and paid $2.50 a day. They claim that at piece-work they could earn but $1.75 a day. The men belong to the Knights of Labor, and other crafts may be affected. The grievance was discussed at a meeting of the men held at 604 Market street (Thursday night).

The new addition to the Belcher Water Bath-house will be opened to-day. All can now be accommodated.

Secretary of the Buckeye Building Association Has Disappeared.

The officers of the Buckeye Building and Loan Association held a meeting Wednesday night to investigate the accounts of John J. Gruchy, their secretary, who abruptly left for parts unknown over a week ago. Committee and a hurried examination made which revealed a shortage of about $1,400.

Gruchy was held the position of secretary since his organization three years ago and was considered a model of rectitude. He was a prominent citizen, was a member of the Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor of the Second Presbyterian Church. A member of the church, he had the largest amount of his contributions, the dates and amounts taken. It is supposed ventures in real estate was the cause. The company will lose nothing, as it is secured a $10,000 bond on the American Surety Company.

Those He Knows Not.

A WOMAN TOUT.

A San Francisco Lady Who Is a Professional Tipster.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., March 1.—Mrs. Isa Cohen of Oakland comes across the bay daily and plays the races. She has extraordinary success and, having started a system, has decided to become a professional tipster. Her husband's shop is crowded with sporting men, and even jockeys, who solicit her tips. She has a room for her work hereafter and has engaged a shanty opposite the race track, with a shingle bearing her name and business hours. She says she has been in the habit of picking her horses before going to the track without knowing anything of the odds. She claims that she picks three or four winners and as many losers every day. Hurder racing is her specialty.

THE NATIONAL LEAGUE.

Pfeffer Was Reinstated and the Schedule of Games Adopted.

Pfeffer has been reinstated by the National League, after a fierce debate and under penalty of paying a $500 fine for his actions, which caused him to be blacklisted. A subscription was started to raise the amount, and in twenty minutes $300 had been pledged. It is expected to raise the rest to $500.

The schedule for the season was also adopted last night, and St. Louis gets the start of the season as early as possible. The days—Decoration Day, Fourth of July and Labor Day, the Browns have but one at home and this with a club that will not do them any harm. The Browns are to play these days and they are looked upon as plums, but Von Ahn got none of the picking.

On April 1 the Browns have the Louisville team as an attraction, while on Decoration Day the home boys will be in Boston and on Labor Day in Baltimore.

The Browns have decided that the Eastern clubs will be a rule, open and close in the East and the Western clubs in the West.

BRIETENSTEIN AND PIETZ.

They Are Determined to Hold Out for $2,000 Apiece.

Brietenstein and Peitz are holding out for $2,000. Both men are determined to act, except not a cent less, and if they hold out the club management will come near being forced to take them at their own figures. Brietenstein says he does not exceed any pitcher in the season, but there are plenty who will get more. The same may be said of Peitz as compared with the other catchers.

Base Ball Briefs.

Buck Ewing says he will play on first for the Reds this year.

Tony Mulligan is looking for a chance with a national or minor league team.

Oliver Brown, the manager and captain the Evansville Club in the Southern League.

Fatty Flaherty, on third for Louisville part of last season, has signed with Memphis.

Martin Duke and Billy Earle, who played in the Southern League, will be the Minneapolis battery.

The St. Louis Boy Has Started on His Search for Lenzen.

W. L. Sachslebn left his home Wednesday night for New York on his trip to Asia. Minor in search of Frank G. Lenzen, the lost American cyclist. He expects to sail for London next Saturday, and will go thence directly to Persia, where Lenzen was last heard from nearly ten months ago.

Mr. Sachslebn is not manguing of finding a place to live while on his trip, but will make every endeavor to find him a place to travel over the territory in which he is supposed to have been killed in his search for his partner, Allen, when they turned around the world on wheels several years ago.

Buffalo will hold an indoor cycle meet on March 8. The arrangements are in the hands of the Press Cycle Club, in conjunction with the Sixty-ninth Regiment Athletic Association. The event will be held in the regimental arsenal, on the ten-lap board track.

Almond is now toying with the two-class m. The Scottish Cyclist is greatly in favor of it, although if adopted it may result in interfering with their riders competing in England and Ireland, where the strictly amateur rule is observed.

Abbott Bassett, Secretary of the League of American Wheelmen, has his Chicago to again become the headquarters of the headquarters of his office having been removed to that city.

Victor Club Reorganizes.

LEFT HOME AND MOTHER.

He Early Found His Way Before a Police Court.

William Tascott, aged 18, a school boy from Springfield, Ill., wound up a rather sporty night before Judge Morris, with a severe katzender, and a charge of drunk on the streets staring him in the face. The boy came to the station to confess, arriving here Thursday evening with $15 in his inside pocket. He left his values in a lodging-house near the Court-house, and then went into some "swell" saloon, the name of which, he says, he got to drinking. That is all he remembers. He admits his name is Tascott, but would not give his correct name because he was not satisfied with the service he received. He was fined $3 and costs, but was not sent to the Work-house.

Street Railway Bills.

The Council Committee on Railways met at 3 p. m. to consider the Magnolia Avenue, Grand Avenue, and Union Depot extension bills. The Union Depot Company asked for the right of extending its Tower Grove Line westward and southward.

Recollections of Shiloh.

Missouri Camps of the Royal Legion will meet at the Lindell Hotel Saturday evening and after a short business session there will be an exchange of recollections of the battle of Shiloh. Many participants in the battle will take part.

THEIR TRIAL DAYS SET.

Noble Shepard, Michael Dickson and John Lane Arraigned.

Noble Shepard, Michael Dickson and John Lane, all charged with murder in the first degree, were arraigned in the Criminal Court this morning for the purpose of pleading to the charges against them, notifying the Court as to their counsel and having the date of their trial set. All the prisoners plead not guilty.

Shepard is charged with having murdered Thomas Morton and the latter's mistress, Lizzie Leahy, on a flat boat at the foot of Franklin, the condemned, his home, in 1888.

His confinement in jail seems to have done the prisoner a great deal of good, as far as his personal appearance is concerned.

He was born in the Union Depot, three years ago, and was taken to St. Louis to come to trial.

He was then sent to the Union Depot, and never left it, except to go to work for his master, Mr. Cook, who was a carpenter.
